

Rediscovering the Anglican Church: The Anglican Daily Office

7.30 - 9 pm 6 Oct to 10 Nov (Thursdays) via Zoom Cost: SGD$10
Instructors: Revd Canon Terry Wong, Revd Ian Chew and team

Rediscovering the Anglican Church (RTAC) is a lay training course of St Peter's Hall which comprises various modules to help us to appreciate what God has done through the Anglican Church and to rediscover her timeless treasures, gifts, and graces. They will also lead us to be more faithful to the rich disciplines of prayer, worship, mission and societal engagement that are part of our heritage and our living legacy.

In this module The Anglican Daily Office, we will look at the history, and the biblical teachings behind the Anglican Daily Office which involves the practise of Scripture reading and prayers.

In this module on the Anglican Daily Office, we will be covering the following:

- Historical development of Daily Prayer: From the Jews to Jesus and the Early Church, the Monastic (Benedictine) movement to Cranmer.
- The English Reformation and Cranmer's emphasis on listening to and praying the Scripture.
- The Nature and Shape of our Daily Prayers today.
- The Daily Prayer discipline: Why we need it and challenges in modern life.
- Praying the Office together.
- Praying the Office alone.

We will also be leading participants through the practicalities of doing the Office alone and communally.
